No More Talk Of Bolting The National Con- vention Is Heard By The Anti-Tafters.

HITCHCOCK IS OFF THE COMMITTEE

Roosevelt Delighted With The Way In Which Taft's Forces Are Working With The Contesting Delegations At Present.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Ill., June 8.—The republican national committee met this morning to continue its hearing for seats on the temporary roll call.
Representatives of the "Allies" were present today in full force. No more talk was heard bolting from the national committee.
Hitchcock Off
Frank H. Hitchcock, Taft's field manager, did not sit with the committee on credentials today as he did last when important matters were decided relative to the Alabama and Arkansas contesting delegations. Solomon Luna of New Mexico, whose proxy he held, returned to take up the work.
Withdraw
Luna arrived while the committee was in session and Mr. Hitchcock immediately withdrew just previous to the decision of the committee in favor of the Taft delegates in the third district of Florida, which was contested. The first, second and third districts of Georgia were also given to the Taft delegates.
Committee Adjourns
The committee was forced to adjourn before noon, owing to the fact that the partitions in the room they were using are in such a defective condition that they are dangerous to the occupants of the room. The committee will be assigned to another room this afternoon.
Recieve Advice
Secretary Taft today wired Frank Hitchcock to make no change in the methods he is pursuing in regard to contesting delegations. President Roosevelt, it is said, does not conceal his delight at the way the work is being done.
Just One Room
It was announced by the management of the Auditorium hotel this morning that the suite of rooms engaged for Leslie M. Shaw early in the year were given up today with the exception of one room for Mr. Shaw himself.

PENS WORTH $500 TURN UP MISSING

H. D. Smith Co.'s Plant Entered Saturday Night by Mysterious Individual Who Had a Key to Place.
Harry D. Smith of the H. D. Smith Co., plant located at the corner of Madison and Second streets, yesterday morning reported that his place of business had been entered sometime during the previous evening and nearly twelve gross of gold pens, which he valued at $500, carried away. Chief of Police George Appleby and Officer Panning accompanied him to the factory and made a minute inspection of the premises. They found that there was no evidence of any force having been used to effect an entrance, and, inasmuch as the head of the firm had found the door locked upon his arrival at the office, it seemed quite evident that the intruder had gotten in with a key.
In connection with this circumstance, Mr. Smith called attention to the fact that he had advertised in the Gazette, but without using his name, about two weeks ago for a bunch of keys attached to a heart-shaped ring which he had lost. The keys and ring were said to have borne no marks which would indicate where they belonged and, according to Mr. Smith, he did not recover them and was compelled to have another key to the office made for his own use.
At first he was quite certain that nothing else had been taken from the place, but later he reported that a silver sample case of three dozen fountain pens could not be found. Curiously enough a handsome pen with gold-embossed barrel which had been left on the desk just above the drawer where the detached pens were concealed, escaped the notice of the burglar.
The officers are very much puzzled over certain aspects of this affair. The concern has no employees who work there nights or have keys to the office. Yet the direct fashion in which the burglar located the booty, without any needless preliminary ransacking of possible hiding places, and the manner in which the entrance was effected, all point to someone familiar with the office as the probable author of the theft.

COMMITTED SUICIDE BY HANGING SELF

His lifeless body was found dangling at the end of a rope which was attached to a cross beam in his barn. The only reason known for the act is that Mr. Leebman was in ill health and that he took the suicidal step during a temporary fit of insanity. He leaves a wife and seven children.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Toronto, Ont., June 8.—Following a very spirited campaign, a provincial election is being held in Ontario today to decide whether Hon. J. P. Whitney shall be returned to or dismissed from office. The return of Premier Whitney is believed to be assured, though the Liberal leaders are confident his following will be materially cut down. Labor and immigration, railroad taxation, the finances of the province and the alleged failure of the present regime to fulfill its promises in regard to these and other matters form the principal issues of the contest.

BIG DAM FINISHED IN WESTERN STATE

Granite Reef Diversion Dam Finally Completed and Ready for Formal Opening.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Phoenix, Ariz., June 8.—Granite Reef diversion dam, an auxiliary unit of the Salt River reclamation project, is completed and ready for opening. The dam is located twenty-two miles above this city and cost approximately $250,000.
The structure, which is of concrete, is nearly 1,300 feet long and contains, including the masonry for the sluiceway and regulating gates, about 48,000 cubic yards of concrete. The Granite Reef dam will divert all the water used on both sides of the river, including the storage supply from Roosevelt dam, which is the chief feature of the Salt River project. About 160,000 acres of land in the neighborhood of Phoenix will be supplied with water diverted by the Granite Reef dam, and when the great Roosevelt dam is completed several thousand horsepower will be developed and utilized to pump water from underground sources to supplement the surface supply and increase the irrigable area by 50,000 acres. The general elevation of the irrigable lands is 1,000 to 1,200 feet above sea level.
The valley is traversed by the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railroads, which connect it with towns of Arizona, the Pacific coast cities and eastern fruit markets. The soil is an alluvial deposit of great fertility and adapted to the cultivation of a wide variety of crops, including those of the temperate and subtropical zones. The lands are mainly in private ownership, but there are many large holdings, which must be subdivided and sold to actual settlers.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS IN BIG ANNUAL REUNION

Birmingham, Ala., Is Thronged With Gray. Glad Men, And Stars And Bars Are Much In Evidence.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Birmingham, Ala., June 8.—The Stars and Bars float from every staff in Birmingham today and the martial music of life and drum echoes through the downtown streets. The eighteenth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans is at hand and today witnessed the first big rush of visitors. The advance guard of visitors put in an appearance yesterday, but not until the early trains this morning did the rush begin in earnest.
Throughout the day there has been an almost continuous stream of gray-clad veterans between the railroad stations and the reunion headquarters at the City Hall. The morning hours gave evidence of the perfection of the local arrangements for the reception and accommodation of the visitors. Members of the general reception committee met every arriving train and the veterans and their friends were promptly furnished with all necessary information and wherever desired an escort was furnished to accompany the visitors to the hotels. The Hotel Hillman and other leading hostilities were soon filled and the overflow is being accommodated in rooming houses and in private homes which have generously been thrown open for the accommodation of the visitors.
The ample accommodations afforded in Birmingham and its easy accessibility from any point in the south will combine to make the attendance figures for the largest reunion in recent years. From Maryland and Texas, from Missouri and Florida and from all the states intervening the delegations are pouring into the city.
The death of General Stephen D. Lee, the beloved commander-in-chief of the veterans, furnishes the one and only note to what promised to be one of the happiest and most successful reunions in the history of the organization. A handsome portrait of General Lee, heavily draped in black, is the most conspicuous feature of the convention hall decorations, and a service in memory of the late commander-in-chief will be one of the first things on the program after the reunion opens.
The formal opening is set for 9 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Hippodrome, a large and commodious building, situated almost in the heart of Birmingham and of easy walking access to the hotels. The auditorium accommodates over 3,000 people and is remarkable for its excellent acoustical properties.
General George P. Harrison, commander of the Alabama division, will call the gathering to order, and the invocation will be offered by the Rev. Dr. J. William Jones of Richmond, chaplain-general. Following this General Harrison will deliver his opening address. The official greetings will be extended to the visitors by Governor Comer, in behalf of the state of Alabama; Mayor George B. Ward, speaking for the city of Birmingham; Brig. Gen. J. W. Bush, on behalf of the Alabama veterans; Commodore R. N. Rhodes, for the Sons of Veterans, and Mrs. Charles G. Brown, for the Alabama division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.
Tomorrow afternoon Col. E. L. Russell of Mobile will deliver the reunion address, and Judge A. O. Wright of Jacksonville, Fla., will deliver his address on "The Confederate Navy."
Tuesday night Governor and Mrs. Comer will give a reception to the veterans, and there will be fireworks at the fair grounds.
Wednesday morning the Battle Abbey committee will report and the place of the next reunion will be decided upon. At noon the annual memorial exercises will be held. Wednesday afternoon will come the reports of other committees and the election of officers. The floral parade under the auspices of the Sons of Veterans will be given Wednesday afternoon.
The grand parade of veterans will take place Thursday morning. General Harrison, commander of the Alabama division, will deliver the address of the parade. The route will not be long, because everything is being done with consideration for the advancing years of the veterans.
There will be no end to the social entertainment provided for the visitors. The chief feature of the entertainment program, of course, will be the big ball under the auspices of the Sons of Veterans and sponsors and maddis of honor. The ball will be given in the big Hippodrome.
Reunionals will be held daily in Central park, its six acres of beautiful lawn making it an ideal place for such occasions. The park is only five blocks from the business center of the city and seven blocks from the Hippodrome, where the sessions of the reunion are to be held.

G. O. P. PLATFORM NEARLY FINISHED

DRAFTED BY ELLIS, HOPKINS,
LONG AND OTHERS.

ENDORSES THE PRESIDENT

Much Space Given to Tariff Revision and Finances—Railroad Rate
Law Praised—Other Planks.

Washington, June 3.—That the platform which will be adopted at the Chicago convention and on which the Republican party will stand during the next campaign, has been completed with the exception of a few details, which will be left for the committee on resolutions to insert, is the opinion of many who are in the confidence of the Republican leaders.

The work has been done by Wade Ellis, attorney general of Ohio, the draughtsman of the recent Ohio state platform; Senator Hopkins, who will be the chairman of the committee on resolutions; Senator Long of Kansas, and a few others, including the president and Secretary Taft, who have been freely consulted.

The policies of President Roosevelt will be endorsed unequivocally, and this endorsement will be the central idea of the document. Those policies will be set forth as the embodiment of the principles of the Republican party, whose achievements will be lauded as at all times wise and beneficent; as over in the interests of all the people.

Much Attention to Tariff.

Specifically speaking, more attention has been given by the platform makers to the tariff than to any other subject. There will be an unequivocal declaration for revision; but the disposition is to leave the working out of details to the ingenuity of congress.

It will be emphatically stated that there must be no innovation that will permit American labor to come into competition with foreign labor, and accordingly it will be specified that in all cases the duty must be equal to the difference between the American and the European cost of production, a reasonable profit to the American producer.

The principle of protection will be endorsed in general terms, and there may be a declaration favorably to a maximum and a minimum tariff as the one best calculated to insure the promotion of American interests under varying conditions. A clause declaring against utilization of the tariff for the protection of monopoly is also among the probabilities.

As to Financial Plank.

Next to the tariff, the financial plank has received most careful attention; but the enactment of the emergency currency law just before the close of the recent session of congress has rendered the preparation of this plank much simpler than it would have been if there had been no such legislation.

Congress will be congratulated on the Aldrich-Vreeland bill as calculated to protect the business world against possible panics in the near future and at the same time provide for the permanent improvement of our currency system.

Railroad Rate Law.

The Republican administration will also be complimented on the passage during the Fifty-ninth congress of the railroad rate law, and this legislation will be pointed to as an example of what the party will do for the country at large in case it is given such a lease of power as to afford it sufficient time for the changes which are believed to be desirable.

The president will also be given much credit for recent legislation looking to the preservation of the forests, the conservation of the public domain in the interest of the entire country, and the reclamation of the arid lands of the west.

The convention will place itself on record as favoring such an amendment of the Sherman antitrust law as will enable the railroads to enter into reasonable traffic agreements without taking the risk of prosecution in the criminal courts. Probably also there will be a declaration in favor of the registration of certain corporations having the means to become monopolies engaged in interstate commerce.

Other Planks Prepared.

Among other recommendations that will be made will be the following: For the admission at the next session of congress of Arizona and New Mexico as separate states of the union; for the protection of American citizens abroad; for the fostering of our commerce in the Orient; for the open door in China; for the exclusion of coolie labor, whether Chinese or Japanese; strong recommendations of the present civil service policy; improvement of the plan to grant a subsidy in the interest of the ocean mail to South America and Australasia and for the encouragement of American shipping generally.

CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL DAY.

Gov. Glenn of North Carolina Speaks at Arlington.

Washington, June 3.—"I look forward to the day when those of the north and those of the south will join alike in decorating the graves of their common dead."

This was the sentiment voiced by Gov. Robert B. Glenn of North Carolina to a vast assemblage gathered Sunday in the confederate section of Arlington National cemetery to commemorate Confederate Memorial Day.

Gov. Glenn and Representative Thelus W. Sims of Tennessee were the orators. After eulogizing Gen. Robert E. Lee as one of the greatest chieftains the world has produced, Gov. Glenn made a significant reference to Gen. Grant. "Every true southern man respects Grant for his kindness at Appomattox," he said, "and the southland would not take up an error of the past to blacken his character."

"I can truthfully say," continued the governor, "that I long to see the day when the name of Abraham Lincoln and Ulysses Grant shall be loved and respected in every nook and corner of the old confederacy, and when the names of Lee and Jackson will be cheered in Maine, Massachusetts and California."

WITHDRAW THEIR THREAT TO BOLT

ANTI-TAFT REPUBLICANS TO KEEP UP STRUGGLE.

THEY ISSUE A STATEMENT

"Allies" Say They Will Appeal from Rulings of the National Committee—Harmony Settlement Urged.

Chicago, June 3.—Representatives of the "allies" Sunday night recalled their statement that they will bolt the Republican national committee so far as the presentation of evidence to support the claims of anti-Taft delegations from southern states is concerned.

There is evidence that the announcement made Saturday night upon the authority of Representative James Francis Burke, manager for Senator Klor, after he had been in conference with Senator Hemenway of Indiana, J. B. Keating of Indiana, and others identified with the campaign being made by the "allies" created dissension. Some of the other spokesmen for the "allies" declared the announcement to be ill-advised and they busied themselves Sunday to counteract its effect.

Statement of the Allies.

After numerous conferences the following which was headed "Statement from the Allies" was issued:

"Upon the authority of the representatives of all of the presidential candidates other than Secretary of War Taft, it was unanimously decided that they would continue to present their side of the contested delegate cases to the national committee. The decision of the national committee will not be taken as final by the candidates known as the 'allies' but an appeal will be taken in cases where it is believed injustice has been done, first to the committee on credentials and later to the convention itself.

"The determination of the representatives of the 'allies' to continue the presentation of their side of the contests to the national committee is not to be taken as an indication that they approved of the manner in which these contests have been decided. But, in order to be in the position to present all of the cases in proper form to the committee on credentials it is deemed advisable to comply with the form of procedure laid down by the national committee.

"It is the firm determination of the representatives of the 'allies' to first give the national committee an opportunity to consider all the contests on their merits."

Test of Public Sentiment.

It is generally believed that the announcement made Saturday night was designed to test public sentiment, and to influence the Taft forces to a compromise proposition submitted to the committee just prior to the adjournment. That the effect was not what the "allies" expected was admitted by a number of men who had knowledge of the entire proceeding. Senator Cyrus of Massachusetts said that the announcement should not have been made. Senator Hemenway characterized the story that the "allies" had decided to bolt as "unauthorized."

Mr. Keating was not so emphatic, but he intimated that somebody had been "dreaming." A. B. Humphreys, the Hughes manager, said that he had not attended the conference, but that he had agreed to abide by any decision reached. Managers for Speaker Cannon, and Senators La Follette and Foraker were not parties to the announcement.

All of the contests still to be settled are brought by negro voters instructed for Senator Foraker, excepting four districts in Kentucky which are claimed for Gov. Hughes. It was rumored here but not confirmed, that Senator Dick will order that many of the Foraker contests be defaulted in the interest of Secretary Taft.

TROLLEY CAR JUMPS TRACK.

One Man Killed and Many Hurt at St. Louis.

St. Louis, June 3.—Loaded with tired excursionists returning from a picnic and running at a high rate of speed, an open car on the Cravo Coeur Lake line left the track at a sharp curve just beyond the city limits at 10:30 Sunday night, overturned and hurled its cargo of human freight down a ten-foot embankment, killing one man and seriously injured a score of others, three of whom it is believed will die.

The car, after leaving the tracks, turned turtle and landed at the foot of the embankment, a shapeless mass of wood and iron. Nearly all the passengers were caught under the wreckage, great confusion followed.

Kills the Man Who Wronged Her.

New York, June 3.—After lying in wait for nearly nine hours, Sarah Knott, a young Russian trained nurse, shot and killed Dr. William Auspitz, a physician, in the vestibule of an apartment house Sunday night. The woman surrendered herself to the police, declaring that she had shot the physician because he had wronged her.

THE HEAVENS IN JUNE.

By Professor Doolittle, Astronomer of the University of Pennsylvania.

Venus Passes Mars on June 22. An eclipse of the Sun June 28th.

The observer who studies the heavens on the warm evenings of June will at once notice that the whole sky has, by this time, taken on its summer aspect. The white summer star Spica is exactly south. Overhead, there shines out the brilliant, golden-yellow Arcturus; and in the southeast the red star Antares, which is the Scorpio, has risen high above the ground. The summer branch of the Milky Way has also entered the evening sky, and with its wonderful streamers and its knotted and cloud-like structure, may be followed entirely around the eastern half of the heavens from the North to the South. In the northeast the beautiful Northern Cross and the Eagle with the slender group of the Dolphin, or Job's collar, near by, have all appeared since last month, while above these there shines out the very brilliant blue star Vega, which, by next August, will reach the highest point of the heavens as a stream down its radiance upon us from directly overhead.

THE EARLY SUMMER STARS.

The bright stars which look so alike to us as recognized by the astronomer as presenting all imaginable differences, the study of which is of absorbing interest. Each of them is a sun, greatly hotter and brighter than our own sun; those of a reddish color like Antares are believed to be surrounded by a dense cloud of vapors and to be much nearer extinction than the others. Antares also varies in brightness; 2000 years ago it was fainter than the star A of Libra, but now it is very much brighter. Both Antares and Regulus have fainter stars revolving about them, while the great Spica seems around an invisible companion with a velocity so enormous that in only four days it completely traverses its orbit, which is six millions of miles across.

It is probable that the star Arcturus is one of the six greatest of all the stars in the sky. Notwithstanding its brightness, it is so far away from us that it is not displaced in position in the slightest measurable degree as we change our position 186 million of miles in our annual journey around the sun. Could we be placed midway between Arcturus and our sun, we would receive thousands of times more light and heat from the star, than from our sun, and this, notwithstanding that the star's radiation is smothered by a dense blanket of molten vapors. In spite of its immense distance the star is drifting slowly in a southward direction over the face of the sky, its motion changing its apparent position by an amount equal to the diameter of the moon in the course of about 1000 years. So great an apparent motion must indicate an enormous velocity in space, and it is found that the star is approaching us at the rate of nearly five miles a second.

moon when four days old, but the crescent will very rapidly grow thinner until on June 29 it may be detected just at sunset as the narrowest imaginable bow of silvery light. The planet on this last date is at its nearest approach to the earth so that it then appeared eleven times as large as when most remote. Venus will pass stars on June 22; Mars is then on the opposite of the sun from us, and each of last month is now running rapidly westward, and will pass east of the sun and become a morning star on July 5. The change of form and size of this planet during the month, as viewed in a small telescope, will prove very interesting. On June 1, it is about the shape of the crescent two planets is very striking, the apparent diameter of Venus being fifteen times as great as that of Mars. Jupiter is moving slowly eastward out of the constellation Cancer. Disappearances of its moons may be observed on June 2, at 8:24 P. M., 8:55 P. M. and 10:17 P. M.; on June 17, at 9:41 P. M.; June 18, 9:19 P. M. and June 25, 8:53 P. M., standard eastern time.

Mercury will be farthest east from the sun on June 7, and on a few evenings before and after this date may be detected shining out in the twilight glow in the west just after sunset.

THE ECLIPSE OF THE SUN.

On Sunday, June 28, the moon will pass between the earth and the sun, causing an eclipse, which will be visible throughout the entire United States and also Central America, Europe, and the extreme west coast of Africa. As seen from Philadelphia the moon will appear to move along the path AC, Fig. 2. Its center will reach A and the eclipse begin at 9 h 39 m A. M. The moon's disc will then slowly encroach on that of the sun until its center reaches B at 11 h 8 m A. M., when, seven-tenths of the sun will be covered. After this instant it will begin to move off its center C, and the eclipse, ending at 12 h 53 m P. M.

The times of the eclipse as seen from other places than Philadelphia, may differ considerably from those given above. Thus, to observers anywhere on the line AA, Fig. 3, the eclipse will begin at 9 h 10 m A. M.; along the line BB it will begin at 9 h 20 m, and along CC at 9 h 50 m. By estimating his proportional distance between these lines the observer can readily find at what time the eclipse will begin at his station, always remembering that the times here given are Eastern, 75th Meridian, times.

The portion of the sun's disc hidden by the moon, will also vary greatly. To observers along the line AA, Fig. 4, the greatest eclipse will merely appear as at A, Fig. 5. Those along the lines BB and CC, respectively, will see the eclipse as at B and C, Fig. 5, while those within the narrow strip DD will see the moon pass completely onto the sun's disc. Even as viewed from within this strip the sun will not be completely hidden, but will be seen surrounding the black disc of the moon with a brilliant ring of light.

THE PLANETS.

Venus and Jupiter are still the brilliant evening stars. Venus, which attained its greatest brightness on the 29th of last month is now running rapidly westward, and will pass east of the sun and become a morning star on July 5. The change of form and size of this planet during the month, as viewed in a small telescope, will prove very interesting. On June 1, it is about the shape of the crescent

CONFIDENCE RESTORED

The amount of money withdrawn from banks during a panic, through loss of confidence, is never known, but from statistics recently compiled it appears that more than $100,000,000 of this kind of money has found its way back to the banks since January 1st, 1908.

When the fact is considered that money for handling was difficult to obtain, after the panic was fairly inaugurated, it is safe to assume that the money returned represents the bulk of the amount withdrawn, for these purposes.

When the New York Trust company paid out $50,000,000, in a week, last October, the money was paid to frightened depositors. Wall street was the storm center, and but for prompt and heroic action on the part of a few great financiers, many of the best banking houses in the city would have suspended.

With the return of confidence, comes the action of congress in providing for emergencies of this kind, and it will be a long time before another money panic disturbs the country.

The new law provides that the emergency currency shall be printed and ready for use by the first of July, and the government is just now trying to figure out some way to safely store $500,000,000 in new paper money of small denominations. Someone recently said:

"If you possessed a mere matter of $500,000,000 or so in surplus money, what would you do with it?" Uncle Sam soon will have about that much paper currency on hand, but he doesn't know exactly what to do with it; he will not be able to spend it—at least, not until there's another financial panic—and in the meantime he is worried as to just where and how he can keep it safe, where thieves cannot break through and steal.

The new emergency bills of which the 5, 10, and 20-dollar denominations will be ready for circulation by July 1st, will make an awful big pile, and treasury officials are nonplussed as to what to do with the money when it is printed.

"The law provides that it shall be kept in reserve at the various sub-treasuries to allow of quick distribution in time of panic, but none of the sub-treasuries can find space to accommodate its quota. Therefore, the authorities see no way out of the difficulty but to construct additional vaults at Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, New Orleans, San Francisco and Washington."

This surplus money is for use on call from any part of the country, and when the fact is fully realized by the people, it will exert a wonderful influence in keeping the stock of confidence intact, and confidence is the great motive power in the business world.

THE RETURN OF SANITY

The defeat of Governor Cummins in Iowa and of Governor Hoke Smith in Georgia, not by "packed conventions" and the corrupt machine, but by the people at the primaries, indicates that the financial reform epidemic has had its run, and that the nation is convalescing.

Iowa has long been noted for radicalism and Governor Cummins was always stood, for conservatism. Had the election occurred a year ago, results would have been different, but Iowa, like every other state, has devoted time to thought, during the past six months, and thinking is always profitable.

The case of Hoke Smith is a little different, because the railroad proposition entered into the contest. The state of Georgia led the procession in vicious and harmful legislation, and as a result the railroads of the state were facing bankruptcy.

The railway commission, clothed with authority, scaled down the freight schedule of the Georgia Southern $2,000,000, and performed other antics equally obnoxious.

The people at last woke up to the situation, and the defeat of Governor Smith is the prelude to an era of sanity which is being restored. Hopeful signs are noticed in all parts of the country, and the badge of financial reform is no longer the emblem of popularity.

The nation is taking a breathing spell to some purpose, and when Taft has his hand on the door of the White House, confidence will take a long stride forward, and general prosperity will soon follow.

A BANKER'S OPINION

Henry Clows, the New York banker, has this to say of the currency bill:

"The most important financial event of the week was the passage of the currency bill by congress. While it is not satisfactory as a permanent measure, and can only be regarded as a temporary expedient, it will, nevertheless, have a steady influence in financial affairs."

"The generally recognized fact that in an emergency $500,000,000 of new money is obtainable by the banks and can be put into circulation at once, will prevent widespread and serious panics occurring hereafter. If, therefore, such panics are thus prevented the emergency currency law may serve its purpose without the money it authorizes being called into use. It being fully understood that $500,000,000 can be obtained when absolutely necessary, the probability is that it will be seldom, if ever, wanted."

"When I originally suggested the fundamental part of this measure I had that idea in view as I have felt that it was a burning disgrace to the nation that money could be 3 per cent in Wall street one day and 150 per cent the next."

"This has worked most disastrously to permanent business confidence with our merchants and financial institutions and the general prosperity of the country. The new bill certainly will serve the purpose of bridging over until a better plan can be secured."

"I have favored this emergency measure because I was convinced it was the only thing this congress could possibly be influenced to pass during this session, its simplicity being its chief recommendation."

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS

The Rev. Dr. Lincoln of Grand Rapids, Ontario, is engaged in organizing Bible study classes, using as a text the national Sunday school lessons. The Gazette recently became a member of the syndicate of newspapers in America interested in promoting the work.

The first of the series appeared in the paper last Saturday, and the service will be continued on succeeding Saturdays. It will be found of interest to Sunday school workers as well as to others who enjoy Bible study.

The questions are carefully prepared and have to do with the lesson for Sunday immediately following. The Gazette is of the opinion that they will be of interest to many readers.

The Moral.

He got up a deal in wheat, and almost had to sell his shoes.

He did, in fact, part with his seat. It's tough to gamble when you lose.

He tried to corner playmate then; exhausted every trick and ruse. But made a bust of it again. It's tough to gamble when you lose.

He has no money now to burn; his waist consists of ones and twos. He may from this a lesson learn. It's tough to gamble when you lose.

And Have It to Spend, Too.

We are going to spend a billion dollars next year and we have, or will have, the money. That is more than any nation on earth can say, and we can say it with credit to ourselves.

In spite of the fact that as many more millions are to be spent by states and cities for purposes which some European nations consider national affairs. This is certainly a billion dollar country. —Philadelphia Inquirer.

THE STORY OF OWEN KILDARE.

Young man:

If you think you have not had a fair chance in life, read this brief sketch of the rise of Owen Kildare of New York city.

Think of it! This young man at thirty years of age was unable to read or write. Today he supports himself by writing.

Kildare was a member of a tough Bowery gang. He was rough, uncouth, ignorant. He had been orphaned at the age of seven years and cast into the streets. Living the precarious life of a bootblack and newsboy, he slept in doorways, attics, in barrels. He had but one ambition. He dearly loved a fight and wanted to be a prize fighter. For several years he made his living as a saloon bouncer.

Can any good come out of the Bowery?

Yes. At thirty years of age Kildare came into contact with a gentle girl who was a schoolteacher—a sweet, affectionate, who young woman, pure as a pearl. The association changed the whole current of his life. The young woman helped Kildare to the rudiments of an education. As he studied his ideals of life were changed. He had a hard struggle to let go of the old wild ways. Finally he got employment in the circulation department of a newspaper. He studied every spare moment.

One could well wish in reading the story of Owen Kildare that he might have married the Mable Rose, the girl with whom he fell in love and who wrought so great a change in him. But fate was unkind—or was it unkind?—and his ideal died.

To make a long story short, Owen Kildare began to write stories, submitting them to the editor of the newspaper where he worked for criticism. He persevered until his sketches possessed value. They were heart to heart stories from real life.

Owen Kildare is now well known in journalistic circles. In newspaper parlance, his stories of slum life are esteemed "good stuff." He has also written several books with good success. "Mable Rose," the story of his resurrection from the depths, made a hit.

Young man:

Fate is fickle. She is also capricious. If you are afraid of her, you would better not woo her. She will turn you down.

But—

If you will look her boldly in the face and smile at her, she will smile back at you and shower her gifts upon you. She is looking for a master.

Owen Kildare had nothing on earth to recommend him to his jealous mistress excepting his brave soul, his indomitable will. That was enough.

A Fine Point.

Chinese doctors are very particular about the distinction between physicians and surgeons. A Chinese gentleman was struck by an arrow, which remained fast in his body. A surgeon was sent for and broke off the protruding bit of the arrow, leaving the point embedded. He refused to extract it because the case was clearly one for a physician, the arrow being inside the body.

A Common Claim.

Every chronic office-holder claims that he could make more money if he had the heart to quit serving the public and go into business for himself.

Thy Wife.

Thy wife is a constellation of virtues. She's the moon, and thou art the man in the moon. —William Congreve.

DENTISTRY

Crown and bridge work. Where a few teeth remain in the mouth, I can replace the missing ones with a gold bridge that will fit perfectly, cause no discomfort and be as satisfactory as the natural teeth. This specialty in dentistry has been brought to perfection at this office, and when properly done will last for years. I use pure gold, which is a guarantee your work will be the best.

Gold Crowns, $5 a tooth.

Not $10, as is charged elsewhere in this city for exactly the same work. Call, and consult me and get estimates of cost of your work. I extract teeth painlessly, free when plates are ordered.

This is another feature that counts. Others in this city charge from $3 to $5 extra for extracting your teeth.

PLANS A BIG AUTO RACE MEET, JULY 4

Ex-Alderman Arthur Jones is in Correspondence With Owners of Fast Cars in All Cities Nearby.

Ex-Alderman Arthur Jones and associates are laying plans for a big automobile race meet here on July 4. Mr. Jones has written to the clubs at Milwaukee, Rockford, Madison, Elgin and other cities, and to automobilists in Detroit, inviting them to participate. It is believed that owners of some of the fast new cars owned hereabouts can be persuaded to participate and Mr. Jones, himself, stands ready to try conclusions with some of his old rivals. From present indications the automobile meet will be about the only noteworthy attraction here on the nation's birthday.

LIGHTNING STRUCK TREE IN 3RD WARD

Bolt Shattered Big Oak Tree, Burnt Out Fuses and Broke Fire Alarm Wire Yesterday Noon.

About twelve-thirty yesterday a bolt of lightning followed by an unusually loud clap of thunder struck a large oak tree in the ravine about fifty feet from the house of John M. Sailer at 103 Garfield avenue. The lightning ripped off branches and one was thrown a distance of fifty feet, and broke several panes of glass in Mr. Sailer's house. The bolt hit the top of the tree and passing downward went into the ground.

A number of electric light fuses in houses nearby were burnt out and the shock was quite perceptible. One of the fire alarm wires was also broken causing the fire bell to ring once.

The Only Basis of Society. Few men suspect, perhaps no man comprehends, the extent of the support given by religion to every virtue. No man, perhaps, is aware how much our moral and social sentiments are fed from this fountain; how powerful consequences would become without the belief of a God; how pained would be human benevolence, were there not the sense of a higher benevolence to quicken and sustain it; how suddenly the whole social fabric would quake, and with what a fearful crash it would sink into hopeless ruin, were the ideas of a Supreme Being, of accountability, and of a future life, to be utterly erased from every mind.

OBITUARY.

Frances Ellen Lewis

At four o'clock this morning, after weeks of weary suffering, death came to the relief of Frances E. Lewis, and the immortal spirit went out to the life beyond. Frances was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Lewis. She lived until October 13th when she would have been 17 years old.

She entered Milwaukee-Dowling last September, and soon became identified with the work, ranking high as a student. When she returned for the summer vacation her health showed signs of impairment, and she remained at home in hope of speedy recovery, but the cause of her disease was difficult to determine until it developed tubercular meningitis, which baffled all that skill and loving care could accomplish, and resulted in her death.

Frances was a loving and lovable girl, and in return enjoyed the love and confidence of a large circle of friends, especially among the young people of the Congregational church with which she was associated as a member and active worker.

In the home, she was the life and inspiration of the little family, where father, mother and daughter lived sweet intercourse, and where her presence was like a ray of sunshine. When old people, standing close to the verge of allotted time, topple over and drop out of existence, the expected has happened, but when a young life just entering the realm of activity, with hope building into bloom, as the years unfold, passes on, it is difficult to grasp the mystery, and naught but an echo comes back from the open grave, in answer to useless laments with grief and anguish.

So, in the case of Frances Lewis, time may never reveal the reason why the tragedy was permitted, but time is kind though relentless, and as the passing months and years dull the keen edge of sorrow, a hallowed memory will abide in the home as a sacred benediction.

The breaking of family circles is one of the sad features of everyday history, how sad we never know until our own homes are invaded. The word of comfort and the tear of sympathy may fall in their mission, when hearts are heavy with grief, but they are emblems of a bond which unite humanity in expressions of common sorrow.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, and the stricken family mourning with them, and would cheerfully share the burden if they could. Arrangements for the funeral will be announced tomorrow.

W. F. Tompkins

Word has been received announcing the death of W. F. Tompkins, which occurred at his home in Vallejo, California, on Friday, April 17. Mr. Tompkins was born in Janesville February 21, 1851, and when fourteen years of age entered the Powers Bank at Leavenworth, Kas. Judge W. F. Tompkins was for a time joint proprietor of the Gazette with Levi Alden. Mr. Tompkins later lived in Ellsworth, Kas., until 1891, when the bank he was connected with failed and he went to California to make his home. W. F. Tompkins was the younger brother of Cole and Horace Tompkins, who will be remembered by many of the old residents and spent his early childhood in Janesville. His death was due to a stroke of paralysis a year ago, from which he never fully recovered. His wife and daughter live at Billings, Montana.

Mrs. Thurza C. Ryckman

Mrs. Thurza C. Ryckman died yesterday morning at her home at 105 Wall street at the age of sixty-four. She was born in England in 1842 and came here in 1860, where she has since lived. She was married in 1862 to Morris S. Ryckman and two daughters were born to them, Mrs. W. W. Brown, wife of W. W. Brown, of the city, and Miss Annie Ryckman, also of this city. Mr. Ryckman preceded her to the better world. A brother, Harry Chapline, now in Texas, and two sisters, Mrs. Ida Gibbs of Madison and Mrs. George Marden of Cincinnati, Ohio, survive Mrs. Ryckman. She was a woman of many friends and her life was full of loving service quietly and constantly offered to those she loved. She was a member of the Congregational church for nearly thirty years.

The funeral services will be held from the home at 105 Wall street on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. The Rev. R. C. Dodson will officiate.

William Welch

William Welch died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Welch of 552 Pleasant street, Sunday morning at 11:40. He will be mourned by a host of friends, both here and in Green Bay, where he has been employed for the past two years by the C. & N. W. railway. Mr. Welch, who was a member of the class of 1907 of the Janesville high school, returned from Mexico about four months ago, where he had gone for the purpose of benefiting his health. He was twenty-two years old the 19th of last May.

Besides his heart-broken parents he leaves to mourn his loss one brother, Edward of this city, and six sisters. They are Irene of Janesville; Mrs. Barnes Turley of Blue Island, Ill.; Mrs. Harry Lewis and Mrs. M. J. Leahy of Chicago; Mrs. P. C. Cooley of Harvey, Ill.; and Mrs. F. P. Brown of Webster City, Iowa.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's church.

Mrs. Ferdinand Pothoff

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Ferdinand Pothoff were held yesterday afternoon from her residence at two o'clock and from St. Paul's church at two-thirty. The Rev. C. J. Koenner officiated and the pallbearers were Messrs. Quad, Lemke, Meyers, Zahn, Smith and Peske.

Mrs. Edward Donehue

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Donehue were held Saturday morning. Services were held at the home in the town of Plymouth and also at St. Patrick's church at ten o'clock.

COUNCIL MEETING MAY BE BRIEF ONE

And Devold of Features. Unless the Sam Brown Salary Question is Raised Again.

Unless some of the far-angled aldermen make another effort this evening to secure partial justice for Officer Sam Brown through the payment of his current salary, the meeting of the common council this evening may be brief, as well as featureless. A short, business-like session would be a real treat. It will require six votes to do the decent thing by the officer, according to the latest ruling. Monthly reports of the various departments and the city engineer's plans and proposals for the projected water construction work will be submitted.

FIRE BOYS TO HAVE BEAUTIFUL GARDEN

East Side Station Employees Expect Great Things of Their Flower Beds.

Over at the West Side fire station the fire boys have their usual garden plot next to the station again this year. While they do not boast about it yet the garden will be better than any year before if the weather is right and for a variety of flowers will be unrivaled by any plot in the city. There are the usual perennials, the golden glow, creeping ivy, chrysanthemums, and roses. Besides these there will be geraniums, cannas, chinas, asters, carnations, phlox, hollyhocks, dahlias, gladioli, anemones, sweet peas and various other flowering plants. They have also a bed of radishes which they are carefully cultivating. This place where they have put in their garden was formerly used as a sort of a tin-can alley and they have improved the looks of the place wonderfully.

HIGH-SCHOOL LAD IN COURT TODAY

Sterling Campbell Paid a Fine and Costs of $4.80 for Riding Bicycle on Sidewalk—Other Police Notes.

Sterling Campbell, a high school student, was waylaid and captured by Chief of Police Appleby this morning while riding a bicycle on the sidewalk along North Jackson street. The young man was mainly enough to admit that he knew that he was violating the ordinance in taking to the walk and even went so far as to say that he had a premonition when he turned in from the muddy road into the venture night and badly for him. In municipal court he paid a fine of $2 and costs, amounting in all to $4.80.

There is only one effective way to Stop Indigestion

Most digesters rely on pepsin. But pepsin digests albumen only. It is but one of the elements needed.

Starch, fats and phosphates each require something else.

Then half of digestion is done in the bowels, and pepsin can't do that.

It requires many ingredients to form a perfect digester, and they must be in liquid form.

Kodol has all those ingredients.

It does all that the stomach does—all that the bowels do. It digests any food—any mixture of foods—completely.

Partial digesters give only half-way help.

There is always some food left to get hard, and irritate the stomach lining.

That irritation, even though slight, continues the inflammation. That is why the stomach fails to regain its strength.

A weak stomach is like a lame ankle. Use or abuse it and it will never get well.

But give it complete rest—do all its work for it—and Nature very quickly restores its normal powers.

You can't do this by dieting, for there is always some food that doesn't digest.

You can't do it with partial digesters.

You can't do it with tonics, for they spur the stomach to but temporary activity.

It must be done with Kodol.

The results then are instant and complete. Every food that you eat is digested. You get your full nourishment, yet the stomach gets absolute rest.

Our Guarantee

On the first dollar bottle of Kodol your druggist gives a signed guarantee. If it fails to do all we claim, your druggist returns your money. You take no risk whatever. This $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle. Made by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

But as they did not make their appearance before his Honor we naturally inquired what had become of them, and were informed that their trouble was a dizziness of the head which did not warrant adjudication by the court. If these young men are affected again in a similar manner we shall take pains to get their names for publication.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Rose Ferrill.

Now is the season of the year when the housewife is ever on the alert in her warfare on that most pestiferous insect, the moth. While we may not have a very scientific knowledge of the moth, and may be totally indifferent to either its family name or its highly respectable relatives, we most of us have an intimate knowledge of its methods.

The moth belongs to no union that controls its working hours. It has no prejudices against the quality of the work it engages in, and it moves in the highest circles of society. It is the most democratic of insects, and descends upon the just and the unjust, the rich and the poor the clean and the unclean, with an enthusiasm as comprehensive and cheerful as that of the average politician gathering the spring vote.

Since the moth gets busy early and fleecy overhastily at it, as if it were a student of the famous university on advertising, it behooves the housewife to emulate its example. There is no sure for the work of the moth, as a rule, but the furnace fire, so the cause of prevention is even more imperative in this case than in most of those advertised on the patent medicine circulars.

To those who possess that great boon to the housewife, the cedar-lined moth-proof closet, the matter is simple. The garments that are to be put away for the summer need to be hung in the sun, after a careful brushing. Then, after several hours of sunning, give them a second brushing, and they are ready to be packed in the cedar closet till next winter. Very few, however, possess this great convenience, and the rest of us must solve the problem to suit our various tastes and needs. Some of themselves to the drug store and purchase the moth ball while it is odorless, as most of us can testify. To go into the furnished interiors of some of our churches during the season of steam heat it to be assured that the moth ball is the easiest way to take care of furs. Even a moth cannot stand that odor. It is the one virtue that it possesses. In the search for "gold in everything" it is worthy of note that the moth seems to have a fine taste in the matter of perfumes. Would that the owners of beautiful furs could make the same boast! Then there would not be quite so many "church headaches" during the winter.

When the house cleaning is being done is the time to clean out all worn woolen articles. Turn all that you find that are not worthy saving. It is a false sense of economy to save things that you can not use yourself, and which you have no hopes of giving to anyone else next winter. Note that I say "give" next winter. The custom some women have of giving away winter clothes in the spring to people who have neither the place to keep them nor the time to look after them, is as pernicious as that the same women have of giving away spring garments in the fall. Of course you have no need of them, and equally of course the other person will need them next year, but add gracefulness to your gift by looking the things over carefully, and seeing that they are clean. Then protect them from moths this summer and send them to the places where they are needed next fall. The recipient will call you blessed for more than one reason.

The things you intend for your own use should have the same care. Keep lists as you pack. If you must have some of the articles during the summer this will simplify the matter of search and not expose more than is necessary to the ever alert enemy.

Get your screens in early. The moth that is your neighbor will return into your neighbor if you do this. Then if you do not like the odor of moth balls, or of tarred bags, try the simple expedient of a little housewife who uses her brain in the services of the family as well as in club work. She bought several yards of cheap dark calico, which she made into bags of various sizes. These she dipped into a strong solution of alum. While they were drying she sunned and combed her furs. The combed, she explained, made sure there were no eggs concealed anywhere. The furs were in bags by themselves and the ends securely stitched. In other bags were placed the heavy woolen underwear and in a large bag were the things to give away, clean and dustless, ready to give graciously.

These bags are on the same principle as the large furred bags, but have the advantage of being less bulky and more cleanly and durable. The greatest recommendation, however, is that they are odorless, just as reliable and not nearly as expensive.

Do not forget the shut-ins when you "cream alfalfa." The inmates of the old people's homes feel the spirit of the spring as much as you do, but they cannot go out to meet it. Then bring it to meet them, and find your reward in the brightening of the worn faces, as the familiar flowers bring back memories of a youth long past. The little ones in the home for orphans would like part of your treasures. No one knows what a child loves better than Mother Nature, and the sad little faces will brighten at your coming if you have your hands full of the woody spells, and your heart full of love.

A Poor Profession.

She—Well, rather good.
He—Here's one for you: If I were to ask you to marry me, what would you say?

Giraffe—To remind me of buying a collar.
Monk—And why the one in your tail?
Giraffe—So that I won't forget what the one in my neck is for.

The Ready to Wearables

We find that many women before going away for the summer need a skirt or a wrap or a suit. Others find that they will have to buy one or more ready-to-wear garments with which to piece out the summer, and these buyers are making considerable activity in the ready-to-wear department. It is a pleasure to be able to have such a splendid assortment as this store shows to select from. Samples are all right in their place, but our stock is not made up of sample garments. The class of garments we show were made especially for us by some of the best manufacturers in this country and there are many points about them not found in the ordinary run of garments, and we are selling them at practically sample prices.

Silk Shirt Waist Suits

Here can be found some pretty reception and party gowns from such popular makers as Robertson, Countess, etc. We have them in browns, blues, greens, champagne, Copenhagen, etc., and are letting them out at small prices.

Shirtwaist Dresses of gingham have sold very well. They help out many a woman who has not the time to have one made. A popular line is one at$5.00

Morning Dresses, one piece or two-piece, of gingham or calico.

The White Wash Skirts are selling fine. Ours are made of shirred Indian head linen finish, full gored and trimmed with bands; others full pleated, look like linen but launder better, at 4 1/2, 3 1/2, 3 1/4, 2 1/4, 1 3/4 and 1 dollar.

White Muslin Waists, in embroidery and lace fronts, tucked cuffs, and collar, some with plain linen collar, including the celebrated "Standard Waists." Values to $1.35, are being eagerly picked up at 98c. Nice assortment left.

Renaissance Summer Wraps. These are very dressy for afternoon wear, worn over a pretty reception gown. We show them in black, champagne, Copenhagen, blue. Low prices now.

SILK BARGAINS

We call particular attention to about 15 pieces of fancy silks in checks and stripes. Not a job lot but silks that we have been selling regularly at 75c. These are good, reliable qualities. Any woman can see the merit in them the minute she takes hold of them. Do not confound them with any silks offered for a less price as these silks are in a class by themselves. Width 19 and 20 inches, our closing price.....43c

The 32-in. Fancy Silks sold remarkably well and we let the balance of the lot go at 49c. About 200 yards remain in the lot.

AT 88c we offer all of our beautiful $1.00 fancy silks. There are 150 pieces to select from. An opportunity worth taking advantage of.

WOOL DRESS GOODS

These are undoubtedly the greatest bargains ever offered by us or any other house. We refer to four lots of beautiful dress goods that have been selling at 50c to $1.75. Dark and light styles, plain or fancy, checks, stripes, nubs, flasks, mixtures, colors, and black, in four lots 98c, 63c, 39c, 29c

It takes time for some people to learn what an advertised article is. Many are just finding out that the bleached sheets, 2 1/2 x 2 1/2 yds., 3-in. hem, are the best thing ever offered at 35c each.

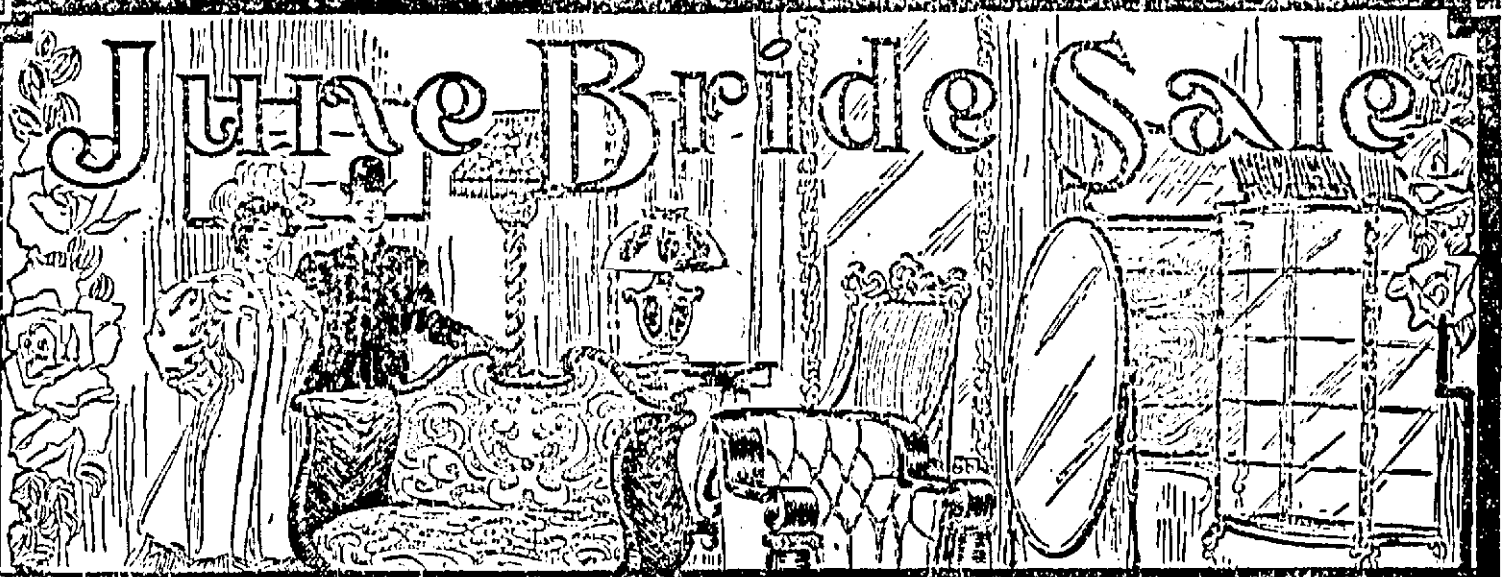

And the Pillow Cases, 36x45, are going in bunches at 10c each. We bought liberally and can supply a large demand. We are making these prices to emphasize our general stock of made-up sheets and pillow cases, which is one of the most complete in this part of the country.

FEATHER PILLOWS

We also carry the "Sanitary" Feathers, by the pound; beautiful grades. People who are going camping or fitting out summer cottages will do well to call at The Big Store before investing.

Our trade in Pillows has grown to large proportions. We carry the "Sanitary" brand and have them in a large variety of mixtures. From a mixed feather pillow at 75c each to the beautiful all down pillows with German line tick covering at $6.50 each.
